Follow-up

No participants were censored for nonadherence: the causal contrast is intention-to-treat-like for treatment strategies classified once at time zero. The guideline-directed medical therapy (GDMT) comparison reclassified the same 14,677 eligible individuals by number of GDMT classes received; 11,183 patients with complete medication data were analyzed (≥ 2 of 3 classes, n = 1,744; < 2 classes, n = 9,439). Death counts are crude counts from the emulation cohort.
